. . . and no one could be prouder . . .

. . . And no one could be prouder . . .
Of the friendships which we have shared and treasured;
Of the close feeling of unity gained through events in which we have participated;
Of the activities—social, scholastic,
and athletic—from which we have derived enjoyment and satisfaction;
Of thee, Orange High, our guide in the past and foundation for the future—our Alma Mater.

Dedication

During our four years of high school we have achieved many of the goals and ambitions for which we have strived. This has been possible through the guidance and understanding given to us by the faculty.
In appreciation of their efforts in molding our character, and preparing us for the future; we the graduating class dedicate the 1958 Oran to the teaching staff of Orange High School.

Activities play an important part in the life of an Orange High student. Besides helping to further our ability to co-operate with others, they provide us with enjoyable pastimes. The pride derived from belonging to these organizations lets each member know his time and efforts are well spent.

Publishing the Orange handbook is one of the worthy jobs of service the Honor Society has accomplished.

Citizenship, scholarship, leadership, character, and service—these are the qualities found in National Honor Society members. The Victory Chapter, under the leadership of Mr. John Andress, takes in students from grades seven through nine. The Garfield Chapter, including grades ten, eleven, and twelve, is led by Miss Marian Douglas. On the agenda for this year were a potluck dinner at Chagrin Falls and the annual spring induction ceremony for the new members.

Standing: B. Scott, L. Novak, D. Graeff, M. Herzbrum, T. Ehrke, J. Kmetzko, R. Eckstein, T. Eames, G. Mowery, S. Schriebman. Sitting: K. Bridges, S. Keepers, L. Yarnell, M. J. Goosman, E. MacLearie, J. Berger.

Student Council

The Orange High Student Council endeavors to bring to the administration the ideas of the students in order that our school may be run democratically and efficiently. The President, Jack Frost, under the sponsorship of Mr. North, is doing a fine job representing the student body. Sponsoring dances and parties, planning improvements, and making the dream of a student-exchange program come true, are only a few of the many activities which are being discussed around the council table.

Standing: R. Brown, J. Penn, W. Helms, B. Priesmeyer, G. White, B. Scott, J. Lockwood, M. Kaye. Sitting: J. Sinclair, S. Vinocur, B. Capes, S. Davis, M. Herbert, S. Keepers, B. Fenner, H. Garlock.

Frost, B. Macan.

World Affairs

The Junior Council of World Affairs was organized to stimulate deeper interest and better understanding of world problems. NATO, Sputnik, foreign aid, and the United Nations provide subject material for discussions which the group has every other week at their noon meeting. Walt King, president, along with Miss Edith Miller, advisor, and club members, planned fund raising events. The profits were used to complete payment for a student's trip to Washington and to the United Nations.

Tri Phi

Exciting, intriguing, boring, sad, hilarious—these words describe the themes, poems, and short stories which are read and criticized each month when members of the Tri Phi present their creations to their fellow authors. Anne Botta, president; Sue White and Audrey Kenyo, vice-presidents; and Luola White, secretary-treasurer, keep the organization running smoothly, with help from Mrs. Alison Bush. This year the group enjoyed reading and criticizing parts of a book which Mrs. Bush has written.

Seated: M. Erchick, S. White, A. Botta, A. Kenyo, L. White. Standing: K. McGrath, J. Forbes, Mrs. Bush, G. Yoger, E. Thornley.

Clinic Attendants

The Clinic Attendants are fortunate people to have around when anyone is feeling below par. Always helpful and efficient, they go about their numerous jobs in the clinic with a cheerful smile and a light step. Learning how to help people will be useful to them all their lives and they value the experience that this training gives them.

Inspired by the noble profession of nursing, Future Nurses of America receive training in first aid from Miss Marilyn Smith, director. Some of them help ailing students at Orange as clinic attendants, while others attend conventions and offer their assistance in affairs concerned with nursing.

Oran

Through its use of pictures, your yearbook brings memories of the past into the present. It establishes a permanent record of happy, busy, and proud moments which will be looked back on with fondness when school days at Orange High have long departed. Hours of work in making layouts, writing copy, taking and sorting photographs, soliciting patrons and selling advertising were necessary for the completion of the Oran.

Carol Stakley, lay-out editor; Michele Skrinjar, editor-in-chief; Judy Forbes, copy editor.

Seated: E. Tretera, C. Heil, C. Cummins, B. Harris, C. Fabian. Standing: L. White, S. Russo, C. Cotman, B. Curl, W. King.

Miss Bettimae Jones, advisor, checks over the "city desk" edition of the Highlights before it goes to the final press.

Highlights

What is new in the Highlights? Bill Curl, editor-in-chief, attempts to answer this question each week by planning assignments for his staff of reporters, so that when Friday morning comes, the Highlights is filled with informative, accurate accounts of school happenings. The latest sports stories, editorials, and social patter are written up expertly by the staff and enjoyed by students and teachers alike.

Five staff members watch Caroline Riboczi as she creates new cartoons for the next deadline.

The staff sighs wearily as the Highlights are printed, stapled and counted, ready for distribution.

Library Assistants

The junior and senior high school Library Assistants, under the capable direction of Miss Miller, have the important job of keeping our school library in constant use for the rest of the student body. From the time the doors open in the morning until the last bell rings at night, these students are kept busy filing, typing and checking books, cards, and magazines.

Checking through the catalogue, these seniors seek information about college.

Standing: H. Voss, C. Fabian, G. Wiepking, N. Meyfarth, P. Lavarack, N. Myers, B. Toth, B. Jezek, I. Kopecky, J. Constantino, A. Simonsen. Sitting: N. Pasterniak, P. Nemeth, P. Svette, J. Blair, J. Linville, D. Thompson, J. Layer, H. Lake.

Pep Club

The Orange High School Pep Club is a new organization, suggested by the Junior class. Its purpose is to promote interest and school spirit for sports and other events. Thirty members, called captains, have charge of small groups of ten, who are responsible for posters.

Row 1: D. Banda, V. Elliot, J. Segner, E. Thornley, D. Gotschall, B. Williamson, K. Ryan, N. Lodge, B. DeMarchi, N. Post, G. Yoger, V. Ferguson, G. Quay. Row 2: H. Voss, C. Fabian, J. Wise, N. Terrell, D. Foster, J. Anderson, M. Titus, L. White.

F.T.A.

The students of this organization are supplied with valuable information that helps them to pave the way toward their chosen career in the teaching profession. These members attend various teachers' meetings, and at different times during the year, they are given the opportunity to do some practice teaching.

Standing: C. Schmidt, A. Botta, D. Thompson, B. Porter, B. Toth, M. Harris, B. McCall, A. Frey, M. Temple, M. Reys. Sitting: D. Foster, C. Cummins, M. Titus, J. Brown, C. Lewis, H. Brown.

Y-Teens

Y-Teen Officers: Anne Frey, Karen Bloomquist, Carolyn Cummins, and Anne Botta.

"John Robert Powers — Here we come!"

Making better women of tomorrow from the girls of today is the worthwhile purpose of the Orange High Y-Teens. Striving to achieve this goal, the members cover religious and service fields as well as social activities. Because of an increased membership this year, the Y-Teens separated into two divisions, the sophomore group and the junior-senior group. Miss Bettimae Jones has once again successfully advised the older members.

Basin Street Bopper!

A banquet given in their honor, followed by the Military Ball, was only one of the activities in which the members of the Orange High band participated.

Standing: K. Bloomquist, B. Harris, A. Frey. Kneeling: N. Post, K. Temple, J. Ball, B. Kozak.

Marching Band

Everyone who saw them perform will agree that this year's edition of the Orange High School Marching Band was the finest we have ever had. The ninety members of the band were under the able direction of Mr. Kuczmarski. Acting as head majorette, and leading the entire band, was vivacious Kay Temple. Six other peppy majorettes were seen strutting at the head of the band and twirling their flame batons, which added a great deal to the excitement of the year. The twenty-eight girl drill team looked pert and pretty in their new black and white uniforms. Led by Luola White, the marchettes helped to put on many spectacular half-time shows. The M&M Club, new at Orange, was formed for the purpose of training the many girls who wish to become majorettes or marchettes.

Kneeling: Assistant Head: G. Yoger, C. Starman, P. Nemeth, J. Benes, D. Sawonik, J. Forbes, J. Linville, C. Riboczi, Y. Pickens, K. Wooddell, V. Ferguson, V. Elliott. Standing: Head: L. White, C. Vocal Music

The Junior-Senior ensemble chortle happily for Mrs. West.

One hundred members of the Orange High School choir, under the direction of Mrs. Carol West, present annual Thanksgiving, Christmas and spring concerts. A newly organized junior and senior ensemble has become a vital part of the vocal music department. The opportunity of singing with students from neighboring schools was given to students who were chosen to represent our choir in the annual SOWMAC area concert.

"Honest! We didn't hit that sour note, Mrs. West."

Dances, plays, and social recreation—as we enjoy these events at Orange High today, they form the memories we will treasure tomorrow. Our hearts fill with pride when student life is recalled to mind.

The 1957 Homecoming Queen, Donna Gotschall, and her attendants, Judy Forbes, Barby Williamson, Carol Stakley, and Elaine Thornley, with the senior football squad.

Queen Donna, with her escort, Tommy Thomas, and her four attendants and their dates, reigned over the annual Homecoming Dance on Saturday evening, and led the spectacular grand march.

Homecoming

September 27, 1957 was sunny and warm. The school was buzzing with activity, and last minute preparations were being made for "the most unusual Homecoming ever!"

Both teams were playing to the best of their ability, and at half-time, Orange was well on its way to another Homecoming victory. The big moment arrived at last, and Jungle Larry of television fame, and his two lions, escorted Queen Donna Gotschall to her royal throne.

President of the Boosters, Mr. Jack Hansen, presented Donna with her royal crown, a bouquet of chrysanthemums, and the traditional Homecoming kiss. The four attendants were also presented with bouquets by the senior members of the Majorettes and Marchettes.

Good Housekeeping

"Burnett may run—"

The "Housekeeping" staff.

On the evenings of November 21 and 22, the senior class presented to responsive audiences, the three-act comedy, GOOD HOUSEKEEPING by William McCleery and under the direction of Bruce A. Wilson. Included in the superb cast were members of the senior and junior classes and the theatre arts class.

The Mikado

On two successive evenings last April, the class of '58 sponsored the musical-comedy, THE MIKADO, which was the first dramatic event to be presented in the new theatre. With the combined efforts of talented students, faculty members and community residents, THE MIKADO was a complete success.

"... I would kiss you fondly thus!"

"Three little maids are we!"

Swimming Pool

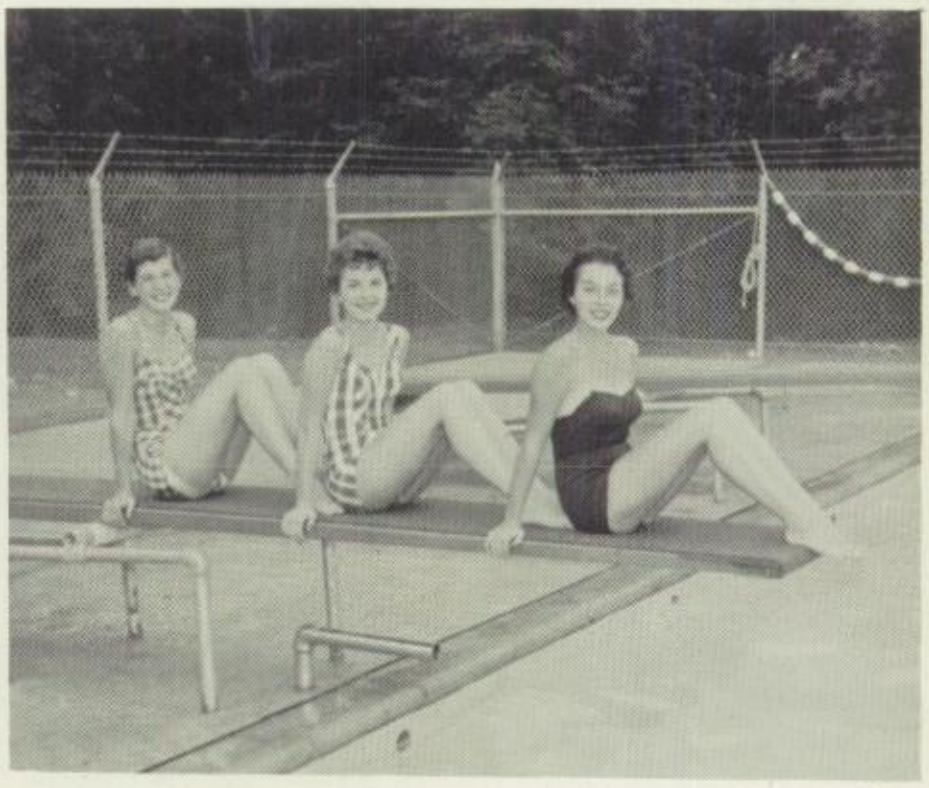
When the new swimming pool opened last summer, the dream of hundreds of students was fulfilled. Under the direction of Mr. Seitz, many high school students helped with lifeguarding. People from the Orange area found the new pool a pleasant and refreshing place to spend hot summer days and evenings.

"Thanks Judy, but I'll drip dry!"

Splash party — female style.

Some guys have it made!

Our version of Hollywood "backyard pools."



Amidst the cheers and yells of their schoolmates, friends, and neighbors in the crowd, our athletes learn of the pride that can only come from playing their hearts out for the glory of Orange High. The hard work and effort of our athletic teams form a very big part of our school.

Teachers feel rewarded for the many hours they spend planning lessons, instructing classes, and grading papers when they see the progress a student is making. A student's achievements are the teacher's success.

Members of the Orange School Board, Mr. Roger K. Easton, Mrs. Anne B. Titus, Dr. Robert S. Post, Dr. Ballard I. Brady, Mrs. Virginia C. Michener and Mr. Charles Hickox discuss school problems. They strive continually to keep the scholastic achievement at a high level. Dr. Brady has assisted the school board in many vital decisions concerning school welfare.

Mr. Black, as assistant superintendent has helped many students achieve scholastic excellence and has enabled them to find their places in the business world. His tireless efforts in helping every school organization have earned him the respect of all.

Administration

Through her patient understanding, judgment and encouragement, Miss Trimple, our Dean of Girls, has successfully guided many junior and senior high girls through their school years.

Mr. Philip C. Putnam, our high school principal, and Mr. Rodney P. Lackey, our assistant principal, work together to handle successfully the many problems which present daily challenges. Through their tireless efforts they have won places in the hearts of all Orange students.
